ENOCHIAN

Angelical, The Celestial Speech, Adamical, Language of the Angels, The First Language, The Holy Language, etc.

Later became known as Enochian due to Dee's assertion that Enoch was the last human to know the language.)

Supposedly channeled from the angels by:

John Dee (advisor to Elizabeth I, alchemist, occultist, hermeticist, etc)

+

Edward Kelley (medium? Cow artist? Seems suss...)

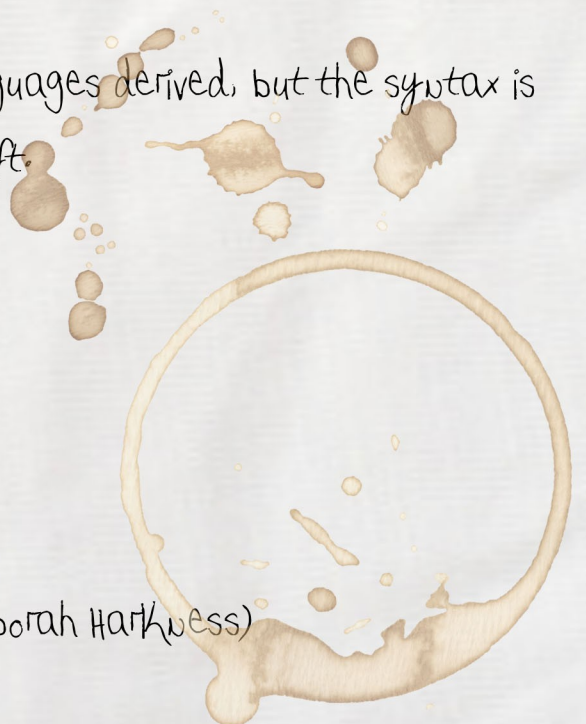

Later revived by The Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn (Regardie?)

Integral to the study of Enochian Magick - ceremonial magick commanding various spirits, scrying, travelling in "light bodies" (etheric? Astral?)

Supposedly the language from which Semitic languages derived, but the syntax is suspiciously English, except it's written right to left.

See Also:

- * Liber Loagaeth
- * Glossolalia
- * The Golden Builders (Tobias Churton)
- * John Dee's Conversations with Angels (Deborah Harkness)

Letter to Dion Fortune by Paul Foster Case, 1954 (ish):

"I have personal knowledge of more than twenty-five instances where the performance of Enochian magical operations based on the Order's (ie: Alpha et Omega's) formulae led to serious disintegrations of the mind and body.... Perhaps the most conspicuous example of the use of these formulae is A.C himself, but there are plenty of others I have personally witnessed whose personal shipwrecks have been just as complete even though their smaller tonnage, so to say, makes the loss seem less deplorable"

...shit.

Hold up, there's this:

"Speaking a demon's name may or may not do any harm, but in supernatural theory, speaking a demon's name gives it power and summons it to you.

If you are already being haunted by a demon, saying its name will only increase its power over you, which is very very bad. So, whether or not you believe this warning, just know you have been warned. If you want to share any of these names, send the link to this page to your friends, or print it out."
